If a child can read and write, they can learn to do and be anything. That's the simple, but powerful, idea behind CODE (formerly the Canadian Organization for Development through Education).

We imagine a world where every child can read and write – a world where every young person can pursue their education and realize their full potential. For more than 60 years, CODE has been working to build such a world. From humble beginnings, we have grown to become one of Canada's leading international development organizations uniquely focused on children's literacy and education in low-income countries.

The Individual Giving and Marketing Manager is a key position on the Fund Development and Marketing team - one that is critical to helping CODE achieve its growth and impact strategy. We are seeking a motivated and highly skilled integrated marketing professional who will thrive as a member of a fast-paced team that seeks to deliver maximum impact for CODE's charitable mission.

Duties & Responsibilities

The Individual Giving and Marketing Manager is responsible for managing and growing a portfolio of entry to mid-level individual one-time and monthly supporters. This position will plan and execute proven engagement strategies that result in both supporter retention and increased giving, while working in close collaboration with the Director of Fund Development and Marketing to plan and execute multi-channel supporter acquisition programs.

- Manage and grow a portfolio of entry- and mid-level individual supporters, both those who give one-time gifts and those that make monthly donations
- Meet annually agreed-upon revenue targets
- Work in close collaboration with the Director of Fund Development and Marketing to execute ambitious supporter acquisition strategies – includes working closely with agencies; providing expert input into campaign design; and project managing campaign execution
- Execute all appeal mailings, upgrades and conversion activities

- Work in collaboration with the Donor Relations and Database Coordinator, monitor and analyze key performance indicators for new, active, current and lapsed supporters – recommend strategies to increase long-term supporter value
 - Develop and execute a best-in-class stewardship program to drive constant improvement in supporter retention rates
 - Identify and implement process and systems improvements related to the individual giving portfolio
 - Manage social media activity – identify content, post and monitor Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter
 - Oversee integration of individual giving campaigns across digital platforms (e-blasts, web content, social media)
 - Manage revenue and expense budgets associated with the individual giving portfolio
 - Participate actively in annual work-planning and budgeting activities
 - Undertaking other special fund development projects as needed

Qualifications

The Individual Giving Manager will be creative, attentive to details and outcomes, possess superior communication and project management skills, bring a positive can-do attitude, and have the confidence to problem-solve independently while working as part of a collaborative team.

Required education and experience:

- Completion of post-secondary degree in related field
- Minimum of 5 years' experience in non-profit sector, preferably in marketing or fund development roles

Essential skills:

- Ability to manage a fast-paced and varied workload, including multiple projects and deadlines
- Excellent oral and written communication and superior analytical skills
- Ability to think strategically and act proactively with limited supervision
- Extraordinary attention to detail, including ability to proof-read and edit
- Positive and flexible approach to working as part of a busy team
- A highly reliable and conscientious worker
- Demonstrated success managing and forging relationships with a wide range of supporters and service providers
- Thrives in a small, achievement-focused team and in a culture that values positivity, professionalism, learning, results and accountability
- Experience using Raiser's Edge is considered an asset
- Experience managing supporter acquisition campaigns (DRTV, Face-to-Face) considered an asset
